

Good Morning,

If you are receiving this email your team has been added to the waitlist for the 2023 NCVF Championships. Waitlist info:

- If teams drop from the tournament, those spots will be filled from the waitlist in the order specified on the Tournament Registration Status page. You can see where you stand on the waitlist on that page.
- Some years we have practically no drops, some years we have quite a few drops. We've already had a few drops this year (these have already been accounted for and teams have already filled those spots), but we have no way of knowing if/when teams will drop.
- You should not book travel unless you are planning on coming to the tournament even if you are not accepted (we have had teams travel to the tournament and get accepted at midnight the night before competition when another team no-shows, and we've had teams travel and end up not playing).
- Your entry fee (including processing fee) will be fully refunded if you are ultimately not accepted to the tournament.
- If you choose to withdraw or if you are not accepted to the tournament, your hotel rooms can be cancelled with no additional payment.

Please keep an eye on the Tournament Registration Status page as we update this list almost daily, and let me know if you have any other questions.
